

SECTION A - Introduction to medical writing
SECTION A - The writing process: from idea to publication
SECTION A - From idea to hypothesis
SECTION A - Navigating prior evidence
SECTION A - Key writing skills
SECTION A - Types of articles in medical journals
SECTION B - Case reports
SECTION B - Diagnostic studies
SECTION B - Observational studies
SECTION B - Randomized controlled trials
SECTION B - Design papers
SECTION B - Preclinical/basic science papers
SECTION B - Guidelines and consensus statements
SECTION B - Qualitative reviews
SECTION B - Systematic reviews
SECTION B - Meta-analyses
SECTION B - Editorials
SECTION B - Letters
SECTION C - Title page
SECTION C - Abstract
SECTION C - Introduction
SECTION C - Methods
SECTION C - Results
SECTION C - Discussion
SECTION C - References
SECTION C - Tables and figures
SECTION D - Reporting guidelines
SECTION D - Ethical considerations
SECTION D - Navigating the peer-review process
SECTION D - Leveraging novel technologies and artificial intelligence tools
SECTION D - Maximizing impact after publication
SECTION D - Real-world examples
SECTION D - Conclusions
SECTION E - Glossary
SECTION E - Abbreviations and acronyms
SECTION E - References